From England, we are easily accessible using the M6 then the M56 which joins the A55 – a dual carriageway running along the North Wales coast. Then join the A487. An alternate scenic route is available via the A5 through the mountains.

Plas Dinas is situated 2 miles outside the ancient town of Caernarfon.

Travelling south along the A487 from Caernarfon towards Porthmadog you go through the village of Bontnewydd. You will pass the Newborough Arms pub on your left.

We are a third of a mile past the pub, on the brow of the hill on your right hand side. We are clearly signposted from either direction.

As you enter the driveway you will pass the Lodge on the left and continue down the tree lined drive for around a third of a mile until you reach the house.
